2 THE COURT: Criminal cause for a status conference, 3 case number 18-CR-204, United States v. Keith Raniere, Allison
4 Mack, Clare Bronfman, Kathy Russell, Lauren Salzman and Nancy 5 Salzman.

6 Counsel, can you state your name for the record
7 starting with the Government?

8 MS. PENZA: Good afternoon, Your Honor.

9 THE COURT: Good morning.

10 MS. PENZA: Moira Penza, Tanya Hajjar and with your 11 permission an intern from our office, Melanie English for the 12 United States.

13 THE COURT: Sure. I have my intern in a private 14 place up here.

15 MS. PENZA: Good afternoon. Yeah. Thank you, Your 16 Honor.

17 THE COURT: All right. Thanks.

18 MR. AGNIFILO: Good afternoon, Your Honor. Mark
19 Agnifilo, Teny Geragos and Danielle Smith on behalf of Keith 20 Raniere and Mr. Raniere is incarcerated. He's waives an 21 appearance here today.

22 THE COURT: Okay. All right. If all counsel could 23 address that point about your client not being here.

24 MR. MCGOVERN: Good afternoon, Your Honor. Bill
25 McGovern together with Sean Buckley on behalf of Allison Mack,

1 who has also waived her appearance here today.

2 THE COURT: Okay.

3 MR. DIAZ: Good afternoon, Your Honor. Hector Diaz
4 for Lauren Salzman. We request Ms. Salzman's presence be 5 waived.

6 THE COURT: Okay.

7 MR. SOLOWAY: Good afternoon, Your Honor. Robert 8 Soloway for Nancy Salzman and she too waives her appearance 9 for today.

10 THE COURT: Okay.

11 MS. HARRIS: Good afternoon, Your Honor. Justine
12 Harris for Kathy Russell. She waives her appearance with the 13 Court's permission.

14 THE COURT: Okay.

15 MS. HARRIS: Thank you.

16 MS. CASSIDY: Good afternoon, Your Honor. Kate
17 Cassidy and Caroline Grossbans [ph.] on behalf of Clare 18 Bronfman and Ms. Bronfman waives her appearance today.

19 THE COURT: Okay.

20 MS. CASSIDY: Thank you.

21 THE COURT: I think we've got everybody. All right.
22 So this is really checking in to make sure everything is 23 moving along. And it's my deputy's thing to counsel at the 24 front table, if you're speaking if you could just please use 25 the microphone because we're making a recording of today's

1 proceeding.

2                   So from my perspective there's really just the three 3 issues and -- but you may have others, so I'm happy to hear
4 them. One is just to make sure the discovery is moving along 5 and whether there are any issues. Certainly the Government's 6 growing chart suggests that there have been a fair amount of 7 documents exchanged -- has been a fair number of documents 8 exchanged and some developing issues, I guess, with these new 9 search warrants. Two is just where you think you're going to 10 be on a schedule related to privilege. And the other -- I'm 11 not even sure this is an issue but I guess it is from the 12 docket -- there was the motion filed on 158 and then the stip, 13 I think is at 180, 178, 180. The motion is still outstanding 14 and the question is, is there any reason the motion isn't 15 withdrawn or is there any outstanding issue from that? That's 16 the Nancy Salzman devices point. And if there are or is any 17 outstanding point or points if you could just let me know what 18 that is.

19                   So in any particular order? We'll start with the 20 Government.

21                   MS. PENZA: Thank you, Your Honor. Would you 22 prefer me to sit or stand?

23                   THE COURT: Everybody can stay seated. We -- 24 usually I can tell the difference in the trial lawyers and 25 non-trial lawyers. Trial lawyers can't stand sitting. This

1 is a room of trial lawyers and we're making a recording. It's 2 much easier if you are close to the microphone. I'll get a
3 better -- I can hear you and we'll get a better recording.

4 MS. PENZA: Thank you, Your Honor. Regarding 5 discovery the Government believes that we have been proceeding 6 expeditiously and certainly on schedule with what we had 7 proposed to Your Honor taking your point three and in 8 conjunction we have produced an enormous amount of data 9 pursuant to the stipulation. We agree that the motion is -- 10 no longer needs to be pending. We believe the stipulation 11 covered that and we have made all of the devices that were 12 accessible to us available to defense counsel from Nancy 13 Salzman's house.

14 And otherwise, we have been complying with the 15 deadlines that we had set and our searches, of course, are 16 ongoing as we've noted. We have obtained additional search 17 warrants for certain data. That is included in -- that we 18 have included some of that in the chart. We do not have the 19 data yet. So in terms of any kind of further discussion it's 20 really impossible to have a discussion regarding how much 21 additional data that will be and kind of our timing on that, 22 but we still believe we are in the proc -- we will be in a 23 process to produce that on a reasonable time -- timetable such 24 that defense counsel will have it in conjunction with all the 25 other dates that have been set.

1                   And in terms of privilege, Your Honor, I think that 2 remains -- that's, in our view, the biggest issue right now.
3 Our privilege review team has been working with defense
4 counsel. There are a number of outstanding issues. It is -- 5 there are complexities to the privilege analysis. Different 6 defendants have raised different types of privilege as to the 7 same attorneys. There were generalities regarding one of the 8 things that in order for our privilege team to do a full 9 analysis that they need is, what are the representations that 10 the different -- the different attorneys actually represented 11 the defense -- the defendants are claiming that they 12 represented them in because depending on the function of the 13 lawyer there -- it may or may not -- things may or may not be 14 privileged. So there are still a lot of complexities there.

15                  We have -- the privilege review team has been 16 speaking to defense counsel and our understanding was that 17 Friday would be a reasonable date for them to answer the 18 outstanding questions. So the Government requested in our 19 letter that Friday be set as a deadline for those -- for those 20 questions to be answered.

21                  And so that is the Government's -- the Government's 22 update. We're happy to answer additional questions should 23 Your Honor have them.

24                  THE COURT: This is your letter at 188, the Friday, 25 November 9th date that you're proposing?

1 MS. PENZA: Yes, Your Honor.

2 THE COURT: All right. Do you have a sense at all 3 and maybe this is just not the area you're working on, but 4 your colleague will get the information. You describe it as a 5 first step. Any idea how involved the next steps are?

6 MS. PENZA: I think you're -- Your Honor, I believe 7 that there will be certain data that will be easy to either
8 segregate as privileged or non-privileged, but then I do 9 believe that there will be a volume of documents where there 10 is going to have to be some back and forth. There may be 11 able -- they may be able to reach agreements with defense
12 counsel regarding certain documents, but there may -- there 13 may be other more complicated issues that take longer to 14 resolve, but we believe that as of Friday a few days to kind 15 of process what those answers are that we should be able to 16 set a schedule for further -- further resolution of the 17 privilege issues.

18 THE COURT: So I'm basically pushing you on your 19 last paragraph in the letter which is, "Once it" -- and that's 20 meaning the Government -- "has the information described 21 above, the Government will be prepared to promptly inform the 22 Court whether any legal or factual issues" -- sorry -- "any 23 legal or factual disputes exist with regard to claim 24 privileges and to propose a briefing schedule to resolve any 25 remaining issues." Do you have a sense of what "promptly"

1 means in that context?

2 MS. PENZA: So I think we should be able to update
3 the Court by late next week, Your Honor.

4 THE COURT: Okay. All right. Defendants' counsel, 5 anyone in particular.

6 MR. AGNIFILO: I mean, I agree with everything my 7 colleague from the Government said. They're giving us a lot 8 of discovery. I know from our perspective we've been having 9 pretty steady contact with the firewall team, you know, and I
10 think we've been very productive and I think we've been trying 11 to be reasonable and I think that they view us as being 12 reasonable in terms of our privilege decisions. And so I 13 think we've been making a lot of progress. And we think we 14 can -- you know, we can finalize this by Friday.

15 THE COURT: Your response by Friday?

16 MR. AGNIFILO: Yeah.

17 THE COURT: And then your briefing schedule by the 18 following week?

19 MR. AGNIFILO: I mean, I'm not -- what I'd rather if 20 it's possible just to see where the disagreements are -- you
21 know, see where we are on Friday before we set a briefing 22 schedule. I don't know if that's -- if the Court would be 23 amenable to that.

24 THE COURT: If you reduce the amount of work there 25 is --

1 MR. AGNIFILO: Right.

2 THE COURT: -- I'm amenable. I mean, it's a little 3 bit a self-serving question because --

4 MR. AGNIFILO: Yeah.

5 THE COURT: -- I'm going to have to deal with this,
6 so I'd like to know what we're looking at.

7 MR. AGNIFILO: We've been paring it down. I mean, 8 you know, and we've been sort of not trying to make issues 9 where there don't have to be issues. I mean, you know, if 10 there are issues of sort of agency when there's a third party 11 in the mix, who would not be able to where, you know, we 12 haven't been claiming privilege over those things. So I think 13 that we've been trying to, you know, make it -- make it 14 streamlined and make it as easy as possible. So I'm hopeful 15 that we can continue to do that.

16 THE COURT: All right. Do you agree about the 17 stipulation resolving the motion?

18 MR. AGNIFILO: So that's not my client's motion I
19 believe. I think that's Nancy Salzman's issue --

20 THE COURT: Okay.

21 MR. AGNIFILO: -- if I have that right, so I
22 don't -- I would let -- their counsel is here.

23 THE COURT: All right.

24 MR. AGNIFILO: They can talk to that.

25 THE COURT: So you don't have a view? Okay.

1 MR. AGNIFILO: I don't.

2 THE COURT: And any discovery issues for you on the 3 increasing production waiting quickly to cross the 100,000-4 page threshold?

5 MR. AGNIFILO: Oh, it's -- I can't even imagine how 6 much it is. It's --

7 THE COURT: Is it 96,000? Was that the number?

8 MS. PENZA: No. We have --

9 THE COURT: It's all right. It's just --

10 MS. PENZA: That would have the last -- that's over 11 100,000, Your Honor.

12 THE COURT: All right. All right. So any issues 13 for your client?

14 MR. AGNIFILO: Nothing else.

15 THE COURT: Nothing.

16 MR. MCGOVERN: On behalf of Ms. Mack, we have no 17 issues either on the discovery production. We've reviewed the 18 Government's chart and are comfortable with the pace of 19 discovery and are aware of the remaining deadlines and are 20 comfortable with where we are against that.

21 And on the privilege issue we've not lodged any 22 privileges, so it's not -- there's no issue with us.

23 THE COURT: Let me just go back to the Government 24 for one second.

25 There -- where are the devices that were sent to the

1     FBI and I think as you've described it in the previous 2     conferences you just sort of end up in the queue? Is there 3     any update on whether you're making it to the top of the 4     queue?

5                 MS. PENZA: No update, Your Honor.

6                 THE COURT: Okay. All right. Counsel on the back 7     row. Concerns about discovery?

8                 MR. DIAZ: Right.

9                 THE COURT: Any thoughts about privilege?

10                MR. DIAZ: No issues -- no present issues with 11     discovery. We don't have an issue in terms of the privilege 12     as to Lauren Salzman.

13                THE COURT: Okay.

14                MR. SOLOWAY: Hello, Judge. We -- I represent Nancy 15     Salzman. We did enter into a stipulation with the Government 16     that resolved the issues in a motion that they had filed. I'm 17     not sure why the motion is not closed.

18                THE COURT: It may just be administrative on our 19     end. I want to make -- because they're --

20                MR. SOLOWAY: Right.

21                THE COURT: -- you know, sort of dealt with in two 22     different courtrooms and make sure that everybody is on board 23     that the stipulation resolved the motion.

24                MR. SOLOWAY: Yeah, I don't think there is any 25     issues outstanding.

1           THE COURT: Okay. Any other issues, any issue?

2           MS. CASSIDY: Your Honor, on behalf of

3 Ms. Bronfman --

4           THE COURT: Um-hum.

5           MS. CASSIDY: -- I mean, we are the party with the 6 largest number of privilege documents that hit upon the search 7 terms and so we've been dealing with the firewall attorney on 8 trying to resolve those. And as Mr. Agnifilo said, I mean, 9 where there have been issues that have been raised we've, you
10 know, been trying to work through them with the privilege 11 review team.

12           I do want to highlight for Your Honor that while 13 we've been trying to work through the privilege issues on this 14 batch of documents, the Government has just --

15           THE COURT: "This batch" meaning --

16           MS. CASSIDY: This -- this --

17           THE COURT: -- the current 96,000 plus or what are 18 we talking about?

19           MS. CASSIDY: -- current -- the current 16,000 20 privileged documents that hit on privileged terms in 21 Ms. Bronfman's email alone in the time period that was 22 captured under the previous search warrant, you know, we've 23 now learned that the Government has executed a search warrant 24 for additional emails. The Government has told me that they 25 haven't yet received that data so they don't know what the

1 amount is and I don't yet know what the date range is. So
2 that could change substantially the number of privilege 3 documents that we're talking about.

4 And if we're going to brief privilege issues, you
5 know, I would think that the Court might want to handle it all 6 at once, but we just don't yet know what the scope of the 7 privilege issues will be with respect to that new set of email 8 data.

9 THE COURT: I don't have the search warrant. So are 10 they just different in time or what's the --

11 MS. PENZA: Your Honor, the search warrants are 12 still --

13 THE COURT: -- change?

14 MS. PENZA: -- under seal.

15 THE COURT: Okay.

16 MS. PENZA: But we have disclosed that there are -- 17 there will be -- we expect there to be additional time -- an 18 additional time period. The Government -- our firewall team 19 will be happy to have like any preliminary discussions with 20 defense counsel about what other types of privilege issues
21 might come up. However, from my own knowledge of the case I 22 would expect that a lot of the privilege issues to the extent 23 they existed for the time period we already have the search 24 warrant on will be the same type of privilege issues that 25 we'll be dealing with for the other -- any other dates.

1           So while there may be some additional issues or one-2 off issues, I do believe that continuing to try to resolve the 3 issues in the 16,000 documents will get us very far hopefully 4 on the other types of documents.

5           THE COURT: Okay. So to your point would you like 6 to deal with it all together, of course, but I mean, I'm even 7 more in the dark than all of you are as to what these 8 particular issues are. But to the extent there can be some 9 principals decided --

10          MS. CASSIDY: Right. I mean, I agree with what 11 Ms. Penza said about trying to work through the issues on 12 these 16,000. I guess my point was more towards if we're 13 setting a briefing schedule do we -- are we going to do it now 14 or are we going to wait until the full scope of, you know, 15 privileged emails as it's been -- at least the parties have 16 had a chance to discuss.

17          THE COURT: I think it somewhat depends on the time
18 line. The dates that we do seem to know is that defendant's 19 counsel will get back to the Government by the end of the week 20 and then the Government can apply whatever the facts are that 21 are provided there and then you all can have a conversation 22 about what the outstanding issues are. You know, were the 23 production to come in tomorrow in time to look at and run the 24 searches I guess we could collapse everything together, but 25 since you don't know, right, when no one here seems to know

1       when that production is going to happen I don't know if it's 2       practical to wait given all of your other demands in terms of 3       your time. I'm happy to be corrected or informed otherwise, 4       but that's the way it seems. Does anyone have a different 5       view?

6                  MS. PENZA: I believe that there will be certain 7       attorneys and certain topics that can be resolved and that 8       some -- that may impact other information we get. It may not, 9       but I think we should see. I think we should see how the 10      discussions go this week. And if there are discussions that 11      Ms. Cassidy and other defense -- or other defense counsel want 12      to have about other issues they anticipate where if they're -- 13      if we're talking about a certain attorney now and they think, 14      well, you know, Ms. Bronfman talked to that attorney five 15      years ago about different topics and it may not make sense to 16      deal with this right now, they're going to get other emails, 17      they can have that conversation. But I think in the abstract 18      make a decision that we should wait, not wait doesn't make too 19      much sense. I think we should kind of narrow it with the 20      understanding that the Government has said we are anticipating 21      additional data from other time periods. If there are 22      specific people or specific topics that it doesn't make sense 23      to deal with right this second, we can have that -- they can 24      have that conversation with our firewall team. But I think a 25      lot of progress can be made based on where we are now. And I

1 think the same type of topics are going to be recurring.

2 THE COURT: Right. It just seems to me that given 3 your trial and motion schedule the dates with the district
4 judge waiting too long isn't going to help anybody. So I -- 5 in general, yes, if you can do everything together that seems 6 to be the more expeditious way of handling things, right?
7 Everybody is focused and thinking about the issues, but just 8 given the uncertainty I don't know if we can wait. So it 9 seems like it's a moving target, but that's my initial 10 reaction is unless the information that's responsive to the 11 second set or round of search warrants come in soon but, yes, 12 it will be sort of a divided privilege process -- decision-13 making process with regard to privilege issues. All right.

14 I have you all here. Anybody have any issues?
15 You're on a fairly tight time line to get this case ready for 16 trial and deal with all those preliminary issues, so --

17 MR. AGNIFILO: Well, Judge --

18 THE COURT: Yeah.

19 MR. AGNIFILO: If I could just make one observation
20 or question for the Court maybe to direct to the Government, 21 I'm just wondering whether the Government has a belief based 22 on the new place that we find ourselves in that's reflected in 23 this November 2nd letter as to whether any of the new 24 information that's going to be generated by the new searches 25 or whether the potential superseding indictment that the

1 Government continues to talk about is going to affect anything
2 in relation to the discovery schedule that exists such as it
3 is now or the trial schedule. Because you're -- you know, 4 we're operating here under a belief that we have a fixed
5 schedule and Your Honor is trying to queue to that schedule.
6 And to the extent that the Government has an opinion because 7 they're the ones with the information, we don't know what the 8 new search warrants say. We don't know what the new probable
9 cause consists of to generate new searches and the Government 10 does. So I would just ask the Court to inquire of the 11 Government along those lines and see if we can have an answer.

12 THE COURT: So you're taking Ms. Necheles' place in 13 trying to push for the deadline. To the extent you can answer 14 or willing to answer the question it would be helpful for 15 everybody with regard to their planning. There's definitely 16 two questions in there: (1) given the production that you
17 anticipate what do you think it may do to discovery; and (2)
18 to other deadlines that are further along.

19 MS. PENZA: Your Honor, I believe the Government has 20 been more open than we often are in these cases. We were 21 asked twice by Judge Garaufis and we said we expect a 22 superseding indictment at some point. That being said, based 23 on where we are now we don't anticipate that discovery that we 24 see as continuing from, for example, the additional search 25 warrants that were done on the email -- the email accounts for

1       Keith Raniere and Clare Bronfman as being reasons to extend 2       out the schedule. We believe that those productions in 3       comparison to the many terabytes of data that we have now 4       produced in which the defendants now have time to go through 5       additional data that is produced down the line from those -- 6       from those types of searches will pale in comparison to the 7       volume of data that has been produced at this point.

8                   So the Government is not viewing those types of 9       searches as something that would extend the deadlines on 10       our -- not deadlines, but dates on our -- in our view.

11                  THE COURT: Okay. So are you declining to answer 12       the question about the superseding indictment?

13                  MS. PENZA: Yes.

14                  THE COURT: Okay. Just to be clear, you know. We 15       asked. You don't have an answer. It's totally -- it's up to 16       the Government to --

17                  MR. AGNIFILO: Thank you, Your Honor.

18                  MS. PENZA: And --

19                  THE COURT: -- to deal with that question as they 20       will.

21                  MS. CASSIDY: And just to --

22                  THE COURT: Yes.

23                  MS. CASSIDY: -- in that vein, Your Honor.

24                  THE COURT: Um-hum.

25                  MS. CASSIDY: To be clear, that means that the

1 results of the additional search warrants, this new discovery
2 that is, you know, coming as a result of the additional search
3 warrants will not be produced. The Government does not intend 4 to produce that by December 7th.

5 THE COURT: I think you don't know the answer yes, 6 right?

7 MS. PENZA: That's correct, Your Honor. Thank you.

8 THE COURT: I mean -- yeah, if it comes in tomorrow 9 and it's --

10 MS. PENZA: It will depend on our review.

11 THE COURT: -- small -- doesn't sound like it, but 12 they could turn it around fairly quickly and I think it 13 depends on how it falls in any of these other concerns we've 14 talked about over these various conferences. It seems like a 15 great unknown at the moment.

16 That being said, to the extent the information does 17 come into the Government, you know, as much as you can turn it 18 around or at least give some overarching description of it to 19 counsel that would be appreciated because I think it would 20 help everybody with their preparation plans.

21 MS. CASSIDY: Your Honor --

22 THE COURT: Yes.

23 MS. CASSIDY: Sorry. I -- and I just may be 24 confused about the colloquy just now, but do I understand the 25 Government to represent -- I know I'm addressing you, but --

1           THE COURT: That's okay. You can ask the question.

2 Go ahead.

3           MS. CASSIDY: I know I'm not supposed to talk to the 4 other party in court, but the Government to represent that 5 other than material that's still forthcoming in response to 6 surfboards they have produced were they considered to be all 7 of the Rule 16 or is there additional Rule 16 discovery in its 8 possession that is still forthcoming by December 7th?

9           MS. PENZA: There's still additional discovery.

10          THE COURT: Still.

11          MS. PENZA: By December 7th.

12          THE COURT: Yeah.

13          MS. CASSIDY: Okay. And so that's one universe.
14 Then there's the yet-to-be acquired discovery. Okay.

15          THE COURT: All right. Anybody have any other 16 issues?

17          MS. CASSIDY: Does the discovery to be produced by 18 December 7th include the results of the searches on the 19 devices that have been produced in full to all defendants?
20 The devices have been produced in full to us, the devices that 21 are the subject of the stipulation that Your Honor was 22 mentioning. The Government is still going to do the searches 23 to identify items responsive to the warrants. And my 24 understanding is going to be producing those, so I'm just 25 inquiring about the timing of that production.

1           THE COURT: So you're identifying the responsive -- 2 potentially subset of data on those devices that the 3 Government believes is responsive to the search warrants?

4           MS. CASSIDY: Correct.

5           THE COURT: I don't know where that is on your list
6 of priorities. Any idea?

7           MS. PENZA: Your Honor, we expect that there will be 8 rolling productions of Bates-stamped documents from devices, 9 but those devices are not devices for which, for example,
10 Ms. Bronfman has standing to challenge. There's a lot -- 11 right now -- the issue for discovery is that it's all been 12 made accessible to defendants in the same format that it's 13 accessible to us.

14           So if the question is, what we -- what is responsive 15 from that, that will -- we're not committing to that by 16 December 7th. We -- and our searches are ongoing. We've 17 written about this to the Court already in terms of our 18 ongoing searches. So we are not committing to that by 19 December 7th, but we anticipate that there will be Bates-20 stamped productions from devices by December 7th, but that 21 there will be additional ones after December 7th.

22           THE COURT: All right.

23           MS. PENZA: But defense counsel has everything.

24           THE COURT: I know but, you know, this is --

25           MR. SOLOWAY: Defense counsel what? I'm sorry.

1 MS. PENZA: That's a different --

2 THE COURT: Everything.

3 MS. PENZA: Everything.

4 THE COURT: You have --

5 MS. PENZA: From the devices.

6 THE COURT: -- Ms. Salman's devices. You know, this 7 is the same conversation we had a month ago or so which is 8 Government is on notice that you have to, you know, work hard, 9 do your best, do other expectations around executing the 10 search warrants in a timely fashion and the defense counsel 11 can raise issues if they believe it's not timely produced.

12 That being said, as you've talked with me and you've 13 talked with the district judge as I've seen from the 14 transcripts, you know, it's not a hard deadline, so we have to 15 see how this evolves and comes out.

16 MS. PENZA: But, Your Honor, December 7th even -- I 17 know we had the debate over the word and whether it was going 18 to be a deadline --

19 THE COURT: Yeah, deadline or date, as you said 20 earlier.

21 MS. PENZA: -- or not and we --

22 THE COURT: Yes?

23 MS. PENZA: And it was agreed that it was not a 24 deadline. But even when we were talking about December 7th, 25 that was about production of discovery, not about completion

1 of searches. That is a very different topic.

2 THE COURT: I don't think defense counsel agrees 3 with you, so --

4 MS. PENZA: Well, then --

5 THE COURT: I mean, you know, we'll have to see 6 where we are.

7 MS. PENZA: But then there has to be briefing.

8 THE COURT: We're not at December 7th. I mean, I 9 don't want to speak for you.

10 MR. SOLOWAY: No. And we --

11 THE COURT: And the big conversation, if I recall it 12 correctly, was -- is proposed analysis about prejudice and to 13 your point there's no prejudice if they have it.

14 MS. PENZA: That is our point, Your Honor.

15 THE COURT: I'm not saying defense counsel agree.
16 I'm not making any decisions. I'm just trying to identify 17 issues that are coming down the pike.

18 MR. AGNIFILO: I think the problem is I think there 19 are a few -- a few issues are all sort of occupying the same 20 space at the same time and I think some of the issues are the 21 Government's continuing to investigate which is their right.

22 At a certain point, you know, there's also district
23 court schedules and there's sort of a fundamental fairness I 24 think that creates these sorts of things. And I think what 25 the Government is trying to do, and I understand from their

1 respect to what they're trying to do it, they want to keep all 2 their options open for as long as they can, so they want to 3 give us discovery. And whether it's a deadline or whether 4 it's a date, they want to keep doing searches after that 5 either with an eye toward developing evidence for the trial or 6 developing evidence for a potential superseding indictment.

7                 The problem from our perspective is we're all -- we 8 all have other judges waiting in the wings. Judge Garaufis's 9 case, as far as I'm concerned and as far as he's concerned, is 10 going first but it's not only. And so we're anxious to try 11 and start the trial and know where we stand with all of these 12 dates.

13                 The Government -- Your Honor asked the perfect 14 question and the Government gave an answer that it has the 15 right to give, which is we're not talking about superseding 16 indictments and that's fine.

17                 So as a result I think try as we might to give 18 definite contours to all of this, there's a certain part of it 19 that really doesn't have any contour because the Government is 20 doing an investigation that only it knows the contours of and 21 we're all sort of waiting to see what comes out of that.

22                 So from our perspective we would love the December 23 date to be as much of a deadline as possible and that is argue 24 and then if the Government -- you know, our preference would 25 be that they don't do searches after that because we have a

1 trial soon thereafter.

2 Now, I don't know if there's any mechanism to 3 enforce that. I don't know that there is when it comes to a 4 superseding indictment. If there was, we'd be asking for it.

5 THE COURT: All right. So the superseding
6 indictment I -- there's really nothing for me to weigh on and 7 this is exactly what you said. And the Government, your 8 position is really the conversation we've been having since 9 you first started talking to me and there's desire 10 understandably on the defendants' side to nail down when is 11 the Government's effort to find new information shut down.
12 And as difficult as it for your side to deal with it, it's a 13 question -- it's a balancing question as we've talked about.
14 And we're not there yet and we don't know what the final -- or 15 intermediate final -- the volume will be December 7th or how 16 it's looking going forward.

17 So you've all clearly stated the position and I've 18 said now several times, you know, the Government is expected 19 to work as quickly as it can, as thoroughly as it can, and 20 give you all a fair opportunity to be prepared for the trial 21 and all the motion practice that's going to go on before that.

22 That being said, there are, as the Government has 23 discussed in other conferences, significant logistical and 24 technical challenges to the production. So if -- they can do 25 what they can do and you can make the motions to say this has

1 to stop. That's where we are. Not really any further except 2 that you have gotten a lot of documents since we first started 3 talking about this, so everyone is on notice of the process
4 and you can make your motions accordingly.

5 To the extent we can anticipate them and know 6 they're coming, that's obviously helpful for everybody in 7 terms of planning, but, you know, they're -- but there are 8 conflicting interests and sometimes they are converging, 9 there's a confluence and sometimes they're diverging in terms
10 of your interests and ability to coordinate all this. Look, 11 I'm not saying anything you don't know. We've -- we just get 12 closer and closer and Government -- you know, I don't know 13 what your sense is of how, you know, thoroughly this is all 14 coming together and how you're going to be able to describe 15 your production and on the defendants' side what your 16 prejudice is. Obviously I just touched on one point which is 17 this -- the resolution of -- or mooted out really of the 18 motion by the agreement, but I summarized the Government's 19 position on that issue. There's no prejudice. You already 20 know everything. You could obviously disagree.

21 I don't know if there's much to be said except to 22 keep making this record that everybody is on notice that there
23 are these conflicting concerns and pressure on the Government 24 to keep moving expeditiously. I don't know if anybody else 25 wants to say anything about some particular challenge your

1 client is having or you're having because of this situation.

2 MS. CASSIDY: I would just note it's been a helpful
3 process, Your Honor, before coming to this court, so thank you 4 for the work the Court has put in.

5 THE COURT: I think you're all working a lot harder 6 than I am. I'm trying to avert my need to have to make these 7 decisions, so I appreciate you all trying to work things out.

8 All right. So in terms of time line, we're still 9 working with the date of -- in December and then you think 10 next week is -- you think by the 13th you could have a letter 11 with regard to the privilege or do you think the week after?
12 I mean, it really -- it's -- to state the super obvious, if 13 you can work it out that's better for everybody because you 14 all have, you know, a handle on each of your client's separate 15 interests, but --

16 MR. SOLOWAY: Your Honor, Your Honor --

17 THE COURT: Who is -- yeah.

18 MR. SOLOWAY: Yeah. I would like to just make one 19 other point as quickly as I can. Again, for Nancy Salzman.
20 And I am -- have been sitting here trying to think of ways not 21 to have to say this because we seem to be approaching the 22 conclusion of the conference and that's --

23 THE COURT: Oh, we've got time.

24 MR. SOLOWAY: Yeah.

25 THE COURT: I'm staying up tonight to see what

1 happens.

2 MR. SOLOWAY: Yeah. There's time tonight, that's 3 true.

4 THE COURT: So we've got time.

5 MR. SOLOWAY: But -- and there are, as you've 6 indicated, Your Honor, technical challenges and there's also 7 lots of thorny legal issues underlying the privilege issues 8 and also the issues relating to the Government's motion and 9 the stipulation that resolved it.

10 But in light of the Government's what I would 11 characterize as non-answer to Clare Bronfman's attorney on the 12 question of searches for data among the Nancy Salzman devices, 13 that is within the scope of the search warrant.

14 Okay. I represent Nancy Salzman and we entered into 15 the stipulation and order and it is our expectation that the 16 Government will continue to make the appropriate searches to 17 determine that data that's on those devices that's within the 18 four corners of the search warrant, that which they had 19 probable cause to seize.

20 And while we agree pursuant to the stipulation and 21 order that what we're characterized as full forensic copies of 22 all of the material on those devices would be turned over to 23 all of the defense lawyers, part of that negotiation and 24 resulting order bound the Government to continue to do the 25 searches for that material that is within the search warrant

1 because there is a broader body of material that is in the 2 full forensic images, the full forensic copies that were 3 turned over.

4           And that material is not -- it's impermissible, you 5 know, for the Government to use that material unless they have 6 some basis and Your Honor is indicating that, you know, 7 everybody is -- you know, is making their record and making 8 their position and there are differences. But I just want to 9 state that it's our -- that's our position on behalf of Nancy 10 Salzman that those searches notwithstanding the agreement to 11 turn this all over now so that we could all move forward, that 12 was what we did it. We could all move forward, try to comply 13 with these dates and try to have a trial on the schedule and 14 that's where we are from Nancy Salzman's point of view.

15           THE COURT: Because I understand you're saying
16 nothing about the stipulation should be read by the Government 17 or anyone else to take off the pressure to get the search 18 warrant permitted, searches done as expeditiously as possible.

19           MR. SOLOWAY: Well, the --

20           THE COURT: Is that --

21           MR. SOLOWAY: -- stipulation reads, Your Honor, 22 that -- in one clause that the Government has -- and it's on 23 the record. I mean, it's on the docket.

24           THE COURT: Um-hum.

25           MR. SOLOWAY: The Government has identified and will

1 continue to identify material on the Oregon Trail devices that 2 is responsive to the search warrants authorizing the seizure
3 of the Oregon Trail devices and will produce the materials so 4 identified for counsel for the defendants. We interpret that 5 language to mean that that's what the Government will do.

6 THE COURT: Okay. I don't know that there's a 7 disagreement. Is there a disagreement?

8 MS. PENZA: No, Your Honor. But just to put on the 9 record that additional search warrants on those devices were 10 obtained very recently. Should Mr. Soloway wish to make a 11 motion the stipulation order makes very clear that he does not 12 waive any ability to make motions challenging the Government's 13 search or seizure as to those devices.

14 MR. SOLOWAY: Yeah. I'm assuming that the scope of 15 the warrant has been expanded as to those devices by virtue of 16 the search warrants that we haven't seen. I'm not talking 17 about that.

18 This was on the basis of the search warrant that 19 existed at the time we entered into the stipulation.
20 Obviously the Government unless there's a valid challenge to 21 the probable cause in the new warrants, which there may or may 22 not be, I don't know, but we're just talking about this 23 stipulation that was prepared in advance of the Government 24 notifying us that they had obtained new search warrants. Yes, 25 of course. The breadth of the material is now expanded by

1 whatever the Government put in the new search warrants and 2 whatever new probable cause they articulated.

3 THE COURT: Okay. So just so I'm clear, is your 4 point what I said earlier, which is no one should believe that 5 you having entered into this stipulation takes the pressure
6 off the Government to timely, expeditiously, appropriately 7 execute those search warrants on the devices? Just because 8 they were the subject of the stipulation doesn't change that 9 obligation and --

10 MR. SOLOWAY: Yes, Your Honor.

11 THE COURT: -- are building towards when is this 12 going to stop, at least based on the first round of search 13 warrants?

14 MR. SOLOWAY: Yes, Your Honor. Thank you for 15 stating that.

16 THE COURT: All right.

17 MR. SOLOWAY: Yes, I 100 percent agree with that.

18 THE COURT: You want to say anything?

19 MS. CASSIDY: Your Honor, we don't disagree.

20 THE COURT: All right. It's the second thing you
21 all agree on. All right. Any issues that it would be helpful 22 to raise, put on the record, you anticipate coming up in the 23 next couple of weeks other than this privilege point? And I'm 24 just going to circle back to when can I expect an update, sort 25 of have the Government thinking the end of next week and then

1 counsel suggesting maybe it should be a little later if the 2 privilege discussions could -- are moving along in a 3 productive way. Thoughts?

4 MS. PENZA: Your Honor, if the submission were a
5 letter to the Court identifying areas of potential dispute I
6 think that should be done earlier than later. I think it 7 makes sense to simply highlight for the courts where there are 8 potential issues -- complicated legal issues. We've got 9 third-party waiver issues, joint defense agreements, those 10 types of issues that are not date specific and not document 11 specific.

12 THE COURT: Okay. Let me just give counsel a chance 13 to talk with his colleague.

14 MR. AGNIFILO: I think on our end we're providing 15 the letter to firewall --

16 THE COURT: Friday, right?

17 MR. AGNIFILO: -- AUSA on Friday.

18 THE COURT: Um-hum.

19 MR. AGNIFILO: So on Friday the firewall AUSA will 20 know the issues.

21 THE COURT: And the point is maybe you all can talk.

22 MR. AGNIFILO: Right.

23 THE COURT: And the questions is, how much time do 24 you need to talk before you know that some things -- or at 25 least if you can't resolve it or at least there's a subset of

1 issues that just are not going to be resolved by agreement --

2 MR. AGNIFILO: It makes sense for you to give us a 3 week, I mean, because I think we can probably resolve the vast 4 majority of them.

5 THE COURT: So a week from Friday or what? Okay.

6 MR. AGNIFILO: Right, a week from Friday.

7 THE COURT: Okay. So then I think you're on the 8 same page, right?

9 MR. AGNIFILO: Right.

10 THE COURT: We are looking at the 16th, right?

11 MR. AGNIFILO: Yes.

12 MS. CASSIDY: Your Honor, can I suggest the 19th
13 just because the defense motions are due on Friday, the 16th?

14 MR. AGNIFILO: That's a great point.

15 (Laughter)

16 That's the best point of the day.

17 THE COURT: Yeah. Government, the 19th is fine?

18 MS. PENZA: The 19th is fine.

19 THE COURT: All right. It really is your colleague, 20 so -- right? Your firewall colleague who's going to be having 21 these conversations, so --

22 MS. PENZA: Yes, on the substantive matters, yes, 23 that's true, Your Honor.

24 THE COURT: All right. So if you can just update
25 that colleague about this date. Okay. Anything else?

1 MS. PENZA: Not from the Government. Thank you,
2 Your Honor.

3 THE COURT: All right. Thanks.

4 MS. PENZA: Thank you, Your Honor.

5 THE COURT: Okay.

6 MS. PENZA: Thank you very much.
